AIRBUS, BOEING CRIPPLED BY SUPPLY SNAGS

Aircraft shortage to last at least 4 years, warns Air India CEO

ABHIJITH GANAPAVARAM
New Delhi, March 18

AIR INDIA CEO Campbell Wilson on Tuesday said the global aircraft shortage hampering airline growth will persist for four to five years as supply snags hobble production at jetmakers Boeing and Airbus.

Speaking at an event organised by travel news website Skift, Wilson said he sees pinch points in the supply of narrow-body jet engines, business and first class seats, and some elements of aircraft fuselages.

Air India is in the midst of an ambitious turnaround strategy, but its restructuring efforts have been complicated by jet delivery delays. These setbacks have forced the airline to operate older jets longer than planned, increasing maintenance costs and slowing its modernisation and expansion drive.

Wilson said, "There is not a lot we can do. We are victims of circumstance, as is every other airline. If you are capacity constrained, you need to be a little bit more ruthless with respect to where you deploy aircraft to maximise the return. It means you can't expand to places you would otherwise like to expand."

The competition among airlines to lease aircraft and the different configurations available make leasing aircraft challenging, Wilson added.

In 2023, Air India ordered 470 jets from Airbus and Boeing, including 10 of the much-delayed 777X aircraft and 190 Boeing 737 MAX jets. Late last year, it ordered 100 more Airbus aircraft. When asked about delivery timelines for 777X, Wilson said, "Who knows?"

User fee hike: Flying from Mumbai to become costlier

SWARAJ BAGGONKAR
Mumbai, March 18

FLYING FROM MUMBAI airport is set to become costlier from the next financial year. Private airport operator, Mumbai International Airport (MIAL), a subsidiary of Adani Airport Holdings (AAHL), has proposed a steep hike of ₹463 in user development fee (UDF) for international passengers, while domestic passengers will be charged ₹325. At present, international passengers are charged a UDF of ₹187, which has been proposed to be raised to ₹650, while the domestic passengers don't have to pay any such fee.

The proposal has been placed before the Airport Economic Regulatory Authority (AERA), which regulates tariffs and other charges at airports. "MIAL has suggested a UDF of ₹325 for departing domestic passengers and ₹650 for departing international travellers to enable it to undertake infrastructure development and technological enhancement projects at the Mumbai airport," a note from MIAL said.

TAKING OFF

■ A steep hike of ₹463 to ₹650 in user fee for international passengers

■ Domestic passengers to be charged ₹325, from nil at present

■ MIAL plans to reduce airline landing and parking charges by about 35%

■ MIAL expects around 229 million fliers in 5 years

MIAL further said the fee hike proposal attempts to offset and mitigate the impact on passengers by simultaneously reducing airline landing and parking charges by about 35%. "This reduction is expected to positively impact airfares from Mumbai, enabling airlines to manage costs more efficiently and maintain competitive ticket prices," the statement added.

Over the next five years, MIAL will invest ₹10,000 crore in creation of airport infrastructure and recover a total revenue of ₹7,600 crore from an expected 229 million passengers.

Among the key initiatives planned are domestic-to-domestic transfer facility at T2, a new taxiway Z to improve on-time performance, introduction of eGates to manage congestion at entry to the terminal, free inter-terminal coach transfers and FASTag-enabled parking.

The older terminals of the Chatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport (CSMIA), 1A and 1B, which cater to only domestic flights, will undergo redevelopment, which is planned later in the year.

T2, the main terminal of CSMIA, will integrate technologies like self-baggage drop systems, CTIX hand baggage screening, and full-body scanners to streamline security checks and improve passenger flow.

Foxconn hints at smart city foray

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, March 18

TAIWANESE ELECTRONICS CONTRACT manufacturing giant Hon Hai Technology Group (Foxconn) may launch its artificial intelligence (AI) and IoT-powered Smart City solutions in Indian cities, as it looks to diversify beyond assembling Apple iPhones. "Foxconn is the leading tech provider for Smart City for sure. Guess which city in India is next," V Lee, Foxconn's India representative, said in a social media post, hinting at the Taiwanese major's potential Smart City foray in the country.

The post comes just days after Foxconn chairman Young Liu said the company will sharpen its positioning as a technology manufacturing platform service provider with a focus on three major platforms — Smart Manufacturing, Smart EV and Smart City.

"The three major platforms are the important foundation for developing various technologies and businesses," Liu said at the company's Q4 and FY24 earnings call last week.

CFO David Huang said the company's capex rose from NT$97.9 billion in 2022 to NT$136.3 billion in 2024, driven by production expansion, automation and investments in new business opportunities. He added that capex may grow 20% this year with a focus on markets like India.

The world's largest contract electronics manufacturer is rapidly expanding its business verticals as its core consumer electronics division faces headwinds. Its Q4 net profit dropped 13% y-o-y to T$46.33 billion ($1.41 billion), weighed down by weak consumer electronics sales, despite robust growth in its AI server segment.

IndiGo has great opportunity to address long-haul flights market, says CEO Elbers

WITH INTERNATIONALISATION AS a key focus area, IndiGo CEO Pieter Elbers on Tuesday said the airline has a great opportunity to address the long-haul flight services market from India.

IndiGo, which has over 400 planes in its fleet, is taking wide-body Boeing 787 aircraft on damp lease and is set to start services to Amsterdam and Manchester later this year.

"International air travel probably for quite a long time was very much taken care of by non-Indian airlines... there is a great opportunity to address that market (long-haul) with our planes," Elbers said.

Generally, long-haul flights are those having a duration of over nine hours. The airline expects to take delivery of long range A321XLR planes this year and wide-body A350 aircraft in 2027.

At the Skift India Forum, he also said its order book is an "incredible asset". It has over 900 jets on order.

He said IndiGo wants to have the cost leadership. — PTI
